

LSH Run Report 1894

by Cheesecake

6 March 2019

Hares - Udder and Gargoyle

Venue - 350 Beaconsfield Parade

St Kilda has a high burglary rate because it has lots of burglars. High on the list of desirable, nickable items of your sophisticated St Kilda burglars are: diamond jewellery, iPhone XS, and Udder's flour stamper. Udder is nervous about losing his treasured stamper so he's applied his name thereto with indelible texta. If his stamper ever appears on Ebay or Facebook's Buy & Sell Noticeboard, he wants the world to know he's an udder idjit.

Even without his name, Udder's stamper is easily identifiable. You only have to look at the flour emitting arrow holes on its underside which appear thus:

All his arrows veer to the right.

Klingon's on the other hand tend leftish.

And here's a Quick Lay arrow:

Udder's stamper is getting on a bit.

The flour emitting underside arrow holes are gradually being corrupted and eaten away by rust, causing the once clear arrow holes to expand and coalesce into somewhat embarrassing shapes.

Following a splendid run-walk through the lovely streets of St Kilda, Albert Park and the beach, we gently glided past the 'No Alcohol' signs to a very Pommy drink stop involving gin and tonics. Then it was on-home to Gargoyle's dip, satay skewers and corned beef followed by Peanuts' ginger bread men.

Returnees

Nick, Lotsa Fun, ENB, Pink Pussy, Back Again, Mothball, Shu Shu.

Run Report

By Rick aka What She Said – he speaks New Zulundush but he sed Peanut's ginger bread was great; cold weather but we got gin and tonic at the drink stop; he got to see people playing touch which apparently is a form of Rugby league. 250/350.

Walk report

By GG – (abridged, edited version) Saw lots of checks; many walkers but he only had 2 walking companions, Gobby and Shu Shu. Hoon tram drivers didn't stop for him. His heart beats for Grand Prix. Short cutting bastards forewarned of drink stop location. 80/350.
