The Year that was ... June 2015—June 2016

Loose was set free after a dance routine including high kicks and mini skirts to an unsuspecting incoming GM—Cooch. Many thought he knew what he was doing and was well rehearsed for the routine, but uh uh. He was very surprised and just joined in with his natural Fred Astaire talents.

Cut Loose had prepared giant sized photographs of herself to cut up and reveal an equally giant size photograph of Cooch as the incoming GM.

Many visiting hashers attended on this cold night in Brighton. And a good night was had by all.

LAKESIDE HASH HOUSE HARRIERS Annual Trash Mag 2016

GM's Report

Another magnificent and fun filled year of Lakeside Hash House Harriers. Every run was special and all the hares and all the caterers should feel proud of their efforts.

And there were some outstanding occasions throughout the year. The Christmas Party in Pirate theme, the 1,700th run at Harewood in Through the Looking Glass theme and the weekend away at Baw Baw were all fantastic successes and memorable events.

2015/16 was a year when we wanted to better cater for walkers with specific walk trails, have a few more drink stops, encourage different songs in the circle, continue to attract new Hashers and above all, to make it fun and enjoyable. We succeeded on most accounts. Our biggest challenge was attracting new hashers to keep our club vibrant and we had some great successes in that too.

None of this would have happened without the dedication and commitment of the committee. They made it happen and they kept our club financially sound. I want to thank the committee for all their efforts even though some couldn't make it for the entire year because of other circumstances.

On On to another great year ahead of hashing with Lakeside

Grog Master's Report

Beer, Beer, Cherish the sight...

Warning! Lakeside hash is in danger of losing its reputation as a drinking club with a running problem and is risking disenfranchisement from the global order of hash. Our collective consumption of alcoholic beverages has dropped to a record low of 0.5 litres / hasher / night. Given that we run an average 8 km at hash, this equates to a shockingly economical 6 litres / 100km, which is better than GG's bike.

I know this is sensitive data, which should be kept confidential until 2 July, but you can see the headlines already if Scotty gets hold of it to prop up votes in LH3 heartland -:

"Lakeside Hash declares war on alcohol and faces expulsion due to low consumption :

- ✗ Price of beer increased by 20% & hits retired and low income hashers*
- ✗ Serious drinkers duded with cider substituted for beer*
- ✗ Hash Winos' excessive consumption curtailed with mini bottles*
- ✗ Hashers only getting Down Down's in sherry glasses*
- ✗ Grogmaster banned from attending runs and encouraging consumption*

But Lakeside hashers won't let the secret out, so we can reveal that throughout the year Lakesiders sampled:

- 15 different heavy beers,
- 4 ciders,
- 5 light beers,
- 16 wines
- and the wowzers tried 7 different soft drinks.

And herein lies the problem: we need quantity, not choice or quality. And something has to be done about it. Suggestions to solve the Lakeside dilemma are:

- sack the Grogmaster and GM;
- no choice of beer;
- return to full pots for every down down; and give it away for free.

No doubt the new GM will guide and direct us wisely in the New Hash Year.

Hash Flash Report

There's nothing flashy about this Hash Flash. Annie Liebowitz and Jim Henson are safe on their pedestals.

It helps to bring a camera to runs - most of the time I remembered. Thank goodness for iPhone cameras - that's all I can say.

There were some notable subjects:

They say the camera never lies, but during the year I've been quite liberal with the truth.

Of course, food plays an important role and this year's offering were memorable.

The Kardashian Award (take my photo - NOW!) must go to Behind Bars who's ability to photo bomb is legendary.

The 'Give 'em the finger' award goes to Spreadon and Kevin. No fingers, no photos.

The GM was always in control

Never forget the 4 legged hashers. Usually better behaved than their 2 legged counterparts.

For evidence, check out therest of the year's photos on <http://www.lakesidehash.aun.au/category/photos/>

Happy snapping to the next Hash Flash. My best advice is 'Don't forget the camera.....AND Investigative journalist of integrity—She'll stop at NOTHING to bring Lakesiders the best, most sensational, most shocking and most exclusive stories

So...she got to nothing, and stopped...and did an end of term report card instead...

Lakeside Elementary School results 2016.

Aristokat	A-	Her 1700 scones took her to the top of the Home Economics class.
Astro	A-	Won't hold the schoolyard fight against him, because NickelBy probably started it.
Behind Bars	B-	Was on track to top the Home Economics class until the food fight.
Big Ears	C+	Spending way too much time alone in the shelter shed with his mate Harpo after Phys Ed class.
Cheesecake	A+	Ranking speaks for itself.
Codpiece	C-	Put her in a vat of cement, catapult the vat off to Pluto, and you'd still hear her talking.
Colours	A-	Has the tidiest desk in class; loses marks for constant chatter with 3K9.
Cooch	A+	Excellent head prefect. Deals with leadership stress by ramming the family home with a post hole digger.
Cut Loose	B+	Makes delicious play lunches and shares with other Lakesiders.
Deeper	C+	Not a bad lad but must control those teenage hormones.
E&B		No ranking. She's been away at reform school this term.
Gargoyle	C-	Must stop drawing all over her textbooks.
GG	E-	Ranking speaks for itself.
Klingon	D-	Would be better off at a Catholic school where they give unbelievers the strap.
KokUp	B+	Very diligent delivering the oranges after sport. School tattle tale sez he was syringing vodka into said oranges but I don't believe it.
Lotsa Fun	C-	Needs counselling badly. The non-stop talking is a bad influence on Shu Shu, Spread On and LubeOil.
LuBangOz	B+	Excellent senior student who sets wonderful example for youngsters.
MothBall	A+	He shares his constructive feedback with his classmates, generously and often.
Mummies' Boy	D+	Those teenage hormones again. Apparently he got a girl pregnant a couple of years ago and now he has a toddler!

NickelBy	B-	Blotted his copybook (and his nose) by fighting Astro and Lethal.
No Balls	C-	Call the parents in, there's been lots of truancy here!
Peanuts	D-	Sad case, was caught sling-shotting at other students in class with organically grown unsalted honey roasted macadamias.
Pointy	B+	Gets driven to school and eats pizzas every day. The class fat kid.
Prickly Bush	A-	Tip top milk monitor.
Prince	B-	Good student but needs a speech therapist to flatten out those squashed up vowels.
Punch	A+	Very well behaved respectful student. Wonderful example.
Racey	C+	Sometimes moonlights at another school with a pool.
Tracey
Shoe Shop- per	C+	Wants to be a teacher when she grows up, whenever that is.
Swamp Rat	A-	Concentration problems. Constantly has her head in the clouds expecting the universe to deliver.
Sweaty Box	B+	A boisterous youngster, some mentoring from Udder should turn her into a spiffing Head Prefect.
Swingers	C-	Must be swinging somewhere else, bit of truancy here.
Two Bot- toms	D+	Spends too much time chasing his tail.
Udder	C+	A wonderful mentor for aspiring prefects looking for a stress-free life because nothing ever happened when he was Head Prefect.
Wet Patch	B-	At his English Public School, the lads had fags. At Lakeside, not so much.

Trail Master's Report—and Social Sec

Where do I begin? The past 12 months have been a combination of delectable feasts and long winding trails across most of Melbourne's Central, Eastern and Southern suburbs, with runs set as far away as Frankston (furtherest 'normal' run of the year) in the South and Templestowe in the North. Of Lakeside's 53 runs (60 if you include other AGPUs attended by our members) set by 47 different hares, we've seen three virgin hares (Bondi, Saddlesore and AristoKat) take the main stage and light up Melbourne's streets and trails with splatterings of chalk and flour (in some cases multi-coloured as with the AristoKat and Sweaty Box's Bonfire Night Run). We've also seen some different run locations with 2 runs set from the Queen Victoria Night markets. Perhaps unintentionally, we have also seen a shift in run venues with no runs being set from RSLs this year, but considerably more set from parks and homes.

Editor's choice here—some scenes that they all missed on my long run from the night markets

Whilst

participating in trail setting activities has been relatively even across Lakesides membership, there are always those that contribute more. This year the hasher that set the most runs was E&B (an impressive feat given family commitments prevented her from attending most runs this year) closely followed by Point Post, Deeper and Sweaty Box. Special mention should also go to Codpiece, and E&B for assisting her in one instance, for not only setting the longest run of the year of over 12K, but also for having no hasher (runner nor walker) complete either of her two runs... The only two runs not finished this year, both over 11k at the time of abandonment of trail and in both instances the hare vehemently insisting that the trail wasn't 'that long'.

Lakeside is also fortunate to be a hash full of fantastic cooks and boy, have we been spoilt this year! With Cutloose's New Year's feast in Gasworks Park, Behind Bars' delicious Vietnamese at home in Richmond, Lube Oil's Rendang, E&B St Andrew's Day Haggis plus our famous Christmas in July courtesy of Mothball and Tigermoth. There are many more notable contributions but I don't want to turn this into a list... Thank you to everyone who invests so much time and effort into ensuring we are one of the best fed hashes in Australia! Perhaps now I understand why Codpiece's runs are so long... It's probably the only way any of us will remain calorie neutral!

Special Events

We've seen some special events this year, our 1700th Run being a standout event amongst them. Many of us headed down for a weekend of running, drinking and over indulgence at Swamp Rat's gorgeous heritage estate 'Harewood', down near Tooradin. Firstly there was the run, expertly set by our GM, Cooch, which impressively wound round the same 1km square to complete a 8k trail! Then there was the Traditional English Afternoon Tea catered for by two of our resident Brits, Aristokat and ME, with some notable contributions of cakes, trifles and homemade preserves by Prickly, Swamp Rat and Cutloose amongst others. Followed by an evening BBQ and a bit of 'cricket' as the sun set! I should probably also mention there were a few legless 'hosts', no not Swamp Rat (on this occasion) but Copperheads and plenty of them! It certainly made for a much more 'exciting' recovery run for Aristokat and myself the following morning!

And More...

Our other special events have included the pirate themed Christmas Party at the South Melbourne Surf Life Saving Club organised expertly by Aristokat and catered for entirely by Codpiece, in what was a truly remarkable act of generosity greatly appreciated by all those who attended. I can't not mention the excellent cocktails provided Tigermoth and Mothball, they were lethal but delicious in equal measure and certainly got the night off to an excellent start!

There was also E&B's annual haggis run. There is something truly memorable about running along the trails of the Yarra Boulevard to the sound of bagpipes, for any of you that haven't been to one of these runs, I thoroughly recommend it!

And even more...

And finally, we also held our (now annual) trip to Mount Baw Baw at the end of April, which in keeping with recent tradition, provided us with a light dusting of snow on the Sunday morning recovery run. Another excellent weekend, probably the most relaxing of the hash calendar, aided by excess consumption of wine (and this time cointreau - apparently it's great just poured over apple crumble, just ask No Balls - or maybe she was that desperate to block out the memory of sharing a room with Prickly and Deeper!).

Overall, an excellent year for Lakeside with so many highlights and great to see so many people actively participate in its success. It's been my pleasure to harass you into setting runs this part 12 months but alas it's time for someone else to crack the whip!!

1700th Run— Through the Looking Glass

We were sitting on the grass as Sweaty Box, being a good Pom, was explaining that in Devon the cream went on the scones before the jam and in Cornwall that the jam went on before the cream (or maybe it was the other way around?). In any case she followed with "Aristokat and I could do a brilliant Pommy afternoon tea - cucumber sandwiches, sponge cake, scones...." It was suggested that Harewood could be a great spot for the same and Lakesiders tumbled down the rabbit hole to our 1700th 'Through the Looking Glass' Birthday Run and "Mad Hatter Tea Party".

In spite of explicit instructions, vis.....

the walkers had some difficulty following Swampie's trail.

That might have had something to do with the Hare's peculiar vision of the world. In fact she explained that Harewood was the first place that hares were released in Victoria but that they were no longer seen on the property - possibly because they were all busy setting trails at Hash (or hashish?) clubs.

Begin at the beginning and go on till you come to the end: then stop

At which point Alice/ Add-on, dreamily declared as she searched for the next check point.

If I had a world of my own,
everything would be nonsense
Nothing would be what it is, because everything would be what it isn't Alice

"I'm not angry
My nality is just different from yours."

To which Loo Bang, had this fatherly advice...

and Gargoyle put her hands on her hips, looked down over her nose and pronounced

BE yourself unless you can be a Unicorn - in which case you should be a Unicorn

YOU'RE ENTIRELY
BONKERS.
BUT I'LL TELL YOU A SECRET.
ALL THE BEST PEOPLE ARE.

In the meanwhile the runners were following Cooch's trail dodging bandicoots, swamp skinks growling grass frogs and copperheads.

"Now, here, you see, it takes all the running you can do, to keep in the same place. If you want to get somewhere else, you must run at least twice as fast as that!"

If you don't know where you're going,
any road will get you there.

Until the runners caught up with the walkers and they came to a fork in the road where Udder pointed up in a tree....

Prickly Bush, the other Alice, thought they might have struck an on-back and was considering retracing her steps but looking a little melancholy, stopped abruptly, saying

There seemed to be no use in waiting by the little door, so she went back to the table, half hoping she might find another key on it, or at any rate a book of rules for shutting people up like telescopes: this time she found a little bottle on it, (which certainly was not here before, said Alice,) and round the neck of the bottle was a paper label, with the words 'DRINK ME' beautifully printed in large letters.

It's no use going back to yesterday, because I was a different person then

The drink stop was in a gazebo on a little island where Cheesecake and Cutloose were handing out bottles with

Eventually all returned to Harewood House for an amazing afternoon tea on the same table that Lord Hopetoun, the first Governor General had dined in 1889. At that time Lady Hopetoun had declared that the sponge cakes made at Harewood were the most delicious she had ever eaten. Aristokat and Sweatie's cakes and their cucumber sandwiches and everything else that all the other hashers contributed were every bit as good.

Of course no trip down the rabbit hole would be complete without cards and chess and croquet. It turns out that As-

And then there were pancakes in the morning.....

Report from Mount Baw Baw—by Over The Top

Lasting impressions - Amazing company, Amazing place, Amazing food

For our first outing with this group it certainly made us feel we will be coming back for more.

We had a lovely welcome from those who had already arrived at the ski lodge, with help to bring in our stuff and showing us where everything is. A beautiful log fire was burning in the main living area and the beers and wines were open - what's not to like?

The food started as it was going to go on, with excess quantities of everything, that everyone contributed to over the weekend. We didn't even make it to pudding till about 11 that night because we were full from the rest of the food.

We all settled in well, played a few games.....well we won't say any more about them but not too late a night for most people.

Breakfast was something we all had to bring for ourselves but Sweaty Box was chief pancake maker both mornings and yep, you guessed it, did an amazing job. I think everyone had double rations of breakfast with their own and then pancakes as well because they were so good you couldn't resist.

The weather forecast had been a bit dubious for the weekend but Saturday was a lovely day. Sunny spells and no rain - perfect for running and seeing the beautiful mountain scenery. A few of us went for a short walk to see the village, ok there isn't a lot of it, so it didn't take long but we saw some of the 'amazing views' and gave us a taste for what was to come later.

We had lunch, waited for the rest of the group to arrive and got ready to go on the main run of the weekend which was laid by our hare, Deeper. The run report has already been done for this so I won't go in to any detail other than to say there was a 'slight hiccup' with the route and some of us ended up doing a fairly long run ending with a walk because we were knackered! The views made it all worthwhile though especially at the Hash Halt - Wow!

More food when we got back as there was afternoon tea to be had before we could go on to dinner, not that there were any complaints about that. Dinner started with hand made starters, cheeses and cold meats, then main courses on a curry theme. Dessert came much later once we had some room again, then all the guys pitched in showing off their dishwashing skills.

Saturday night was karaoke night - great fun and nearly everyone had a go. Some were better than others and some thought they were better than others. A few of the girls got up for a dance so I was happy, always being more of a dancer than a singer.

After another over supplied breakfast on Sunday morning we started to get ready for the mornings run. Dubious weather that had been forecast was beginning to show itself in heavy showers and a decidedly lower temperature, taking advantage of a break in the weather the Prickly Hare set out. By the time the pack assembled - slightly reluctantly in some cases because the weather was closing in again, it is a ski resort so its expected to be cooler and we got rain, sleet and snow (briefly) and a welcome relief to get back in to the warm, just in time for lunch and cakes and pretty much anything else that was left over.

~~Hashing on Holidays~~ Holidaying with Hashers in foreign lands (By Cheesecake)

It's not good to bag one's own co-hare so here goes. A couple of months ago when we were trapped in the south of France by our kidnappers, Astro and Cut Loose, I was forced to do a 100 km route march for days and days with three Tasmanians - Colours, Astro and Astro's mate Al. There's the Rack, the Thumb-screw, the Catherine Wheel and then there's being caught in remote French countryside with three Tasmanians yakking endlessly about Launceston.

Astro: So Colours, do you remember Bobby Walsh who you got caught with behind the shelter shed at the East Lonny Primary School in Grade 6?

Colours: No, Astro, that was his brother Raymond.

Astro: So Colours, what were you doing behind the shelter shed?

Colours: Having a smoke.

Astro: That's not what I heard.

Colours: Al, do you remember old Mrs Henderson who lived on the corner of Mary St in Newstead just down from the milk bar?

Al: Yeah, she was the one who had the operation on her right hip when we were in year eight.

Colours: Sorry Al, but it wasn't her right hip, it was her left hip.

Al: Are you sure? I guess I never really looked at her hips.

Colours: Definitely - remember how she was the emergency full forward for the South Launceston under 15s and she once scored 10 goals on a Saturday afternoon with that glorious left kick of hers?

Al: That's true, the South Lonny under 15s were never the same after she had the hip done.

Astro: Actually you're both wrong. The milk bar wasn't in Mary St. It was in Arthur St.

Colours: Astro, I think you've slightly missed the kernel of the discussion happening here.

Al: Sorry Astro but you're getting confused with the other milk bar next to the servo up on the hill in Ann St.

Astro: No Al, I've never been less confused. The one you're thinking of was run by the real-

Sometimes when I reflect back on all the wine I drink I feel shame. Then I look into the glass and think about the workers in the vineyards and all of their hopes and dreams. If I didn't drink this wine, they might be out of work and their dreams would be shattered. Then I say to myself, "It is better that I drink this wine and let their dreams come true than be selfish and worry about my liver."

There should be this little Champagne truck that drives around the neighborhood in the evening playing French music. And we would hear it and run out with our money and stand on the pavement waiting for it. Like an ice cream truck, you know, but with Champagne.
